TORONTO TIDINGS

In the death on May 3d, of the Rev. Canon Hillard Cameron Dixon, a warm friend of the deaf crosses the bar. He was more interested in the poor and afflicted than one could imagine and could talk on his fingers rapidly. He was a great friend of Mr. Norman V. Lewis, of Los Angeles, Cal., many years ago. The deceased is much missed.

Mr. A. C. Shepherd returned to his work at the Post Office after a week's holiday, which he spent in tidying up their new home on Pinewood Avenue. The reporter who happened to drop in can say it is one of the finest homes owned by the deaf in this city.

Mrs. Barber, who had attained the century mark in her travel through this life on May 4th last, died in this city next day. She was a close relative of Mr. Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Roberts and their sister-in-law, Mrs. N. A. McGillivray, went out to spend "Mothers' Day," May 8th, with relatives in Purpleville. Mrs. Roberts remained at her old home for a few days, but the other two returned Sunday evening.

Mr. Walter Bell, who suffered a week's illness and then returned to his work at Oshawa on May 1st, returned home on May 6th, complaining of a relapse, but with careful nursing was able to return to Oshawa on May 8th.

The large attendance that turned up at our church on "Mother's Day" were pleasingly treated to a wonderful sermon by the Rev. Dr. Gunn, who spoke of his trip through India, the Holy Land and other parts of the land of Biblical history, and gave in minute detail the conditions of every form and degree of the people now living in these countries, and from his able discourse we were able to glean the true facts concerning the sayings as found in the Living Word. Mrs. J. R. Byrne interpreted. A new choir but recently formed and consisting of the Misses Maude Egginton, Alma Brown, Gladys Hardy and Violet Lawson, caused no little stir when they tastefully rendered, "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

The "Frats" at their meeting on May 8th, voted for Messrs. John Tyler Shilton, B.A., and Arthur Hall Jaffray to represent their division at the next national convention, which will be held in Denver, Colorado. Mr. Harry Ellwood Grooms was elected as alternate. Messrs. Shilton and Jaffray represented us at the last convention in St. Paul. Wouldn't it be more human were others given a chance to go?

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Watt went out to Weston on May 9th, to see Miss Mabel Burke at the Sanatorium there. She seems to be the same as usual but very bright.

Rev. A. L. Richards, B.D., our Moderator, has again been appointed assistant minister at the Sherbourne St. United Church, but we understand he intends to resign ere long and seek a haven in a smaller hamlet in order to gain a much needed rest.

After being with us for several weeks past, Mr. John Walton left for Woodstock on May 7th.

We regret that Miss Edna Hutchins, one of the two daughters of Ernest Hutchins, is now a patient at the Weston Hospital. We trust she regains her old time health.

As all know, Mr. Samuel Pugsley is a painter and paper hanger and the other day he happened to drop in a stranger's house to see if they wanted his service. Sam was about to make known his call with paper and pencil when the lady surprised him by talking to him in our language. She turned out to be Mrs. A. Ferguson, a warm friend of the Suttons and Baillies of Simcoe. She gave Sam a big contract in papering.

SARNIA SAVINGS

Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie and son, Dresden, were up here for the week-end of May 8th, to see the latter's mother, Mrs. Leckie, who is not so well. Mrs. Mackie and little Raymond are still here helping her mother and sister, Miss Alice Leckie, with their housework.

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson were delighted with a call from the latter's brother, Bert and his wife, who motored up for Mother's Day, and their mother, Mrs. Leich, was lavishly remembered with flowers and beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Kresin, of Port Huron, had Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brown, of Rochester, Mich., and Mrs. Frank Hardenberg and daughter, Eva, of Pontiac, over with them for dinner on May 9th, and then the whole bunch crossed the river and spent the rest of the day with Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson.

In the meantime, Mr. Henderson took his sister and niece, Mrs. and Miss Hardenberg, out to the cemetery to see the grave, literally covered with flowers, and the beautiful monument erected to the memory of the much missed Robert Gordon Henderson.

Through the good efforts of Mr. Jontie Henderson, the deaf of this city and district will hereafter hold their Sunday meetings in a commodious room in the Chamber of Commerce building, instead of at the Y. M. C. A. near the station. Mr. Frank E. Harris, of Toronto, was the first outside speaker to lead our service in our new quarters and he gave a splendid sermon on May 15th.

LONDON LEAVES

James P. Orr, of Milverton, was a guest of George Moore over the week-end of April 30th. He also attended Mr. Ryan's party Saturday evening, and Mr. Watt's service next day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smalldon and Mrs. George Jolly, of St. Thomas, came up on April 30th, to attend our social. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Dark over night and then attended the service at the Y. M. C. A. next day.

We were delighted to meet our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. David Sours and Mr. and Mrs. William Thackberry, of Clinton, at our service here on May 1st. Mrs. Thackberry is the deaf sister of Lorne McCollough, of Flint, Mich.

Mr. William R. Watt, of Toronto, had a very large turnout at his service here on May 1st. Quite a good many came in from a distance to swell the attendance.

George Munro, of St. Thomas, president of our Athletic Association, was in the city on May 1st, to talk over the affairs of the Springbank outing and also attended Mr. Watt's meeting.

All the deaf of this city and elsewhere deeply sympathize with our good friend, W. H. Gould, Jr., in the recent death of his beloved father.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKenzie and only son, Robert, Jr., motored up from Harley on May 1st, and called on James Buck and family at Niles-town before attending the Watt service.

Another pleasant event has passed on, leaving pleasant recollections behind. It was a very delightful social at the Y. M. C. A. on April 30th, provided by the genial Charles A. Ryan, of Woodstock. Those present voted him a good fellow and the affair a grand success. In the button guessing contest, Mr. John F. Fisher won the nearest guess—227 out of 225—Jack never misses winning a prize no matter what he competes in. In the clock running number, Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., won first for ladies and A. H. Cowan for men. A hearty lunch, provided by mine host Ryan, was partaken of before adjourning at midnight.

KITCHENER KINDLINGS

Mrs. Stephens and son, of Bracebridge, were guests of her sister, Mrs. Isaiah Nahrgang, at Speedville for a few days lately.

Miss Margaret Kauffman, of Palmerston, has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. William Hagen for several weeks, assisting in house cleaning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bigley and family, of Hamilton, paid a surprise visit to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Golds on May 8th. Mrs. Chas. Golds and Mrs. W. Hagen and daughter, Norma, were hospitably entertained by Mrs. Absalom Martin in Waterloo on May 1st.

Mr. T. S. Williams and Frank Walker went to Plattsville on May 7th, to fish, but the denizens of the deep would not nibble at their tempting baits. However, they expect to strike better luck next time.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Nahrgang and the latter's sister, Mrs. Stephens, motored to St. Catharines on April 19th, where they visited relatives.

Thomas S. Williams made a business trip to Guelph on April 30th.

Ethel Kauffman, of Freeport, was in our midst recently calling on her sister, Mararet, while the latter was here. Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Williams and family and Miss Margaret Kauffman speeded out to Speedville on May 1st, to greet Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Nahrgang with "How Do Ye Do?"

On "Mother's Day," May 8th, Mr. Frank Walker, with his car, took the Williams family to Haysville and gave Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nahrgang, a surprise cheer.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

The three deaf brothers, Leonard, Albert and Milton Schneider, of Pembroke, motored over to Westmeath on May 8th, and spent a pleasant time with Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McBride.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. George Munro, of St. Thomas, is out again after several weeks' illness. She was formerly Miss Nellie Mosey, of Chatham.

Mr. Hamilton McBride, of Westmeath, states he is very busy on his well managed farm and says he had a great time in Toronto at Easter. He finds the JOURNAL the paper that beats them all.

Ten years before Confederation dawned, Wm. Abbott and Elizabeth Bayne were wed in what is now Hintonburg. On May 20th, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Abbott, now a fine old couple living at Stittsville, in the Ottawa district, will celebrate the seventieth anniversary of their union. The husband is 94, his good wife, 92. She still does her own housework. Of 15 brothers and sisters they had jointly, there is not a single survivor. They had one son, dead these thirty years.

Mrs. Abbott is an aunt of Mr. David Bayne, of Ottawa. Mr. Norman V. Lewis, of Los Angeles, Cal., wishes his numerous friends to note that he is now living at 2034 North Commonwealth Avenue, in Los Angeles.

ELIZABETH, N. J.

All Sunday afternoon and evening of May 15th, the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lynch of 1013 Kilsyth Street, Elizabeth, N. J., wondered why a line of exactly half a dozen cars was parked in front of and around the beautiful country place the Lynchs occupy, and if they did not, they must be of an unusual type of neighbor.

The cars were by Mr. William P. May, of New York, Mrs. Sara Small Temple, of Newark, Mr. Frank Hoppaugh, of Irvington, Mr. Vito Dondeigo, of Trenton, N. J., and Mr. Lynch's car, built in the Durant Works, a stone's throw from where he resides—all these cars being used in transporting the following who were guests for the dinner and reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Small, of Richmond, Maine, it being in the nature of a farewell after a month's sojourn in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pierce Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Max M. Lubin and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoppaugh, Mrs. Sara Small Temple and children, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Joyce, Mrs. Kathryn Menken, Mrs. Dorothy Capps, Miss Alice Studt, Miss Emma Ward, Mrs. Merrell, and Messrs. W. P. May, A. L. Pach, V. Dondeigo, John O'Rourke, and G. Hummel. Dinner was served at six, and refreshments at ten p.m., and between the sessions in the dining room, the hosts had arranged a number of interesting diversions that made up a unique and interesting entertainment.

IN DIXIELAND.

With the advent of summer weather and the recent acquirement of a brand new touring car, the "call of the great outdoors" has been irresistible to this writer, consequently we have found it almost impossible to stick to the desk long enough to get anything written for the JOURNAL of late, or give our time to anything else except enjoying ourself. As our labor of writing and other minor duties does not call for the "punching of the time clock," we merely work when the spirit moves us, and when it don't we just drift and take things easy and enjoy life while we can, for

"The clock of life is wound but once
And no man has the power
To tell just when the hands will stop—
At late or early hour.
Now is the only time we own;
To live, love, and toil with a will—
We place no faith in "tomorrow," for
The clock may then be still."

Lately we have received several insistent requests that we do not abandon our JOURNAL letters, and as our heart is still in all that will help and please our fellow deaf, we are taking a "day off" to write this article, but we can't promise to write with much regularity during the summer.

The date of the convention of the North Carolina Association of the Deaf has been announced for August 25, 26 and 27. This convention will be one of unusual interest, by reason of the attempt which will be made at this time to form a "Southern Association of the Deaf," and also for the establishing of a "Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf," somewhere in the South. A splendid program is now being gotten up, in which outstanding speakers from both inside and outside the state will participate. A copy of this program will be mailed out later. The center of interest in the entire convention will be the open discussion of the formation of an association as referred to above. Friday afternoon and night will be given over to this subject, and the fight between its supporters and opponents bids fair to be a hot one—perhaps the hottest discussion you will ever see because the movement has many strong advocates among the leading deaf of this section. There should, by all means, be a large delegation from every state in the South. The convention will be held during the duldest business season of the year, and during the time when cheap railroad fares and summer excursion rates are in effect on all railroads, and it should be easy for all our deaf who want to go to attend. It will cost very little for railroad fare and many of the deaf have cars and will go in them. The Local Committee at Winston-Salem is arranging to obtain very liberal hotel and boarding-house rates. Every deaf person in the South, who has the real welfare of their fellow deaf at heart, should make an effort to be on hand and join in this discussion and place their vote on record either for or against the proposed association. Everyone is free to vote their own conviction as to the advisability of such an association. What is wanted is a full, free and fair discussion of the movement at this time. Then, there will also be under discussion the proposed "Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf," to be established in one or another of the southern States. This is something that we really need, and should have. Our Southern deaf are a chivalrous and generous lot of people, and we should no longer be content to allow our old, sick and aged deaf be cared for in our public institutions of charity. Other states have such homes. Why not the South? No doubt but what one of the states would give a site for such a Home, and other financial assistance, then the whole South can join in assisting in its support and gather our helpless deaf in one place, instead of allowing them to remain in various public charitable institutions throughout the South. This is a work worthy of the wholehearted support of the deaf of every southern state. The Winston-Salem Local Committee, who have the success of this convention in hand, is also arranging a most delightful social program for the enjoyment of all who attend. A picnic will be held on Saturday at beautiful Pilot's Mountain. Other social features will be announced later. Lee's Hotel, one of the best in the city, will be headquarters, and a formal reception will be held there on the evening of August 24th. Make your plans now to attend this convention and urge all your friends to do likewise. Those who do not attend will miss the treat of a lifetime. Write Mr. J. M. Robertson, Secretary, 313 Gilmer Building, Raleigh, N. C., for further information.

The convention of the Georgia Association of the Deaf will be held in Atlanta on July 2, 3 and 4. Every member of this association in Georgia is urged to attend, as a new set of officers are to be elected to serve for the ensuing two years, and other important business will be up for consideration. Programs will be mailed out shortly.

Mr. John M. Jones, of Akron, Ohio, was recently in this city, visiting his relatives and old friend here and at Lithonia. Mr. Jones left Georgia about ten years ago and this is his first visit home since leaving Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Silver, of Micaville, N. C., are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on April 26th, at the home of Mrs. Silver's parents in Adairsville, Ga. The little girl has been christened Dorothy, and both mother and daughter are doing nicely. Mr. Silver passed through Atlanta last week on his way back to North Carolina, and was "all het up" over the birth of his little girl.

Mr. J. C. Henck, who has been in business at Kingston, Ga., for several years past, has moved to Scottdale, Ga., a mill settlement near Atlanta, and has opened a shoe repairing shop at that place. We are told that he is doing an excellent business at his new location.

Prof. C. E. Jones, of Talladega, Ala., will give a reading in Atlanta on May 27th, under auspices of Atlanta Division, N. F. S. D. His wife, who accompanies him, will sing "America" in signs. Mrs. and Mrs. Jones are on their way to North Carolina, where they will spend their summer vacation.

Mrs. W. C. Williams, of Oxford, Ga., mother of Herbert Williams of this city, died in Atlanta May 8th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Sheridan, on South Avenue. Mrs. Williams was 71 years old and had been ill for many months. Her funeral and interment was in the Oxford Cemetery. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Herbert and the rest of the family in their loss.

The marriage of Miss Maxine Morris and Mr. Harry Belsky, of Brooklyn, N. Y., took place at the home of the bride in this city on April 24th. The ceremony uniting this young couple was performed by Rabbi David Marx, and was interpreted in signs by M. M. Simmons for the benefit of the contracting parties. Many beautiful and costly presents were received, a large part of which came from relatives and friends of the bride, all of whom are prominent Jewish people of this and other sections. The newlyweds left the same night via Savannah and the Ocean Steamship route for their future home in Brooklyn.

A surprise birthday party was given Mrs. C. E. Thompson on May 5th, by her deaf and hearing friends, Mr. Thompson, with the assistance of neighbors, had arranged for refreshments, which consisted of delicious strawberry ice-cream and cake, to be sent in later in the evening, and there was an overabundance of it, so everybody who wished received a second and third helping. Mrs. Thompson received a large number of handsome and useful presents, among which was a large reclining porch and lawn swing from her husband and a handsome silk umbrella from her son. Games were played and a nice time enjoyed by everyone present.

Having found that the size of our bank roll would not permit the purchase of a Rolls-Royce, this writer has finally compromised on a Chevrolet of the latest model and design, and now feels as rich and comfortable riding around in it as if we were, burning the air in a thirty-thousand-dollar Rolls-Royce. The difference was all in our imagination.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dickerson and Leonard McLean, spent a recent week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Mills at Calhoun, Ga. While on their way they stopped over for a few hours at Adairsville to visit Mrs. A. L. Silver and sister, Miss Thelma Swain.

The Alabama Association of the Deaf will hold its convention at Birmingham, on July 21, 22 and 23, with a reception Wednesday night July 20th. A number of good speakers will be on hand and all deaf from adjoining States are invited to attend. We are told that quite a number from Atlanta are planning to attend.

Most of the deaf schools will close the latter part of this month, and the teachers will be scattering everywhere to enjoy their vacation. Several of them will attend the Denver convention, while others will go to the one at Winston-Salem.

Mr. John Stallings and family have moved to Miami, Florida, where Mr. Stallings will engage in business with his brother, James, who operates a first-class barber shop in Miami.

WEDDING BELLS.

One of the prettiest home weddings which has taken place among the deaf colony of this city for a long time, occurred on Saturday afternoon, May the fourteenth, at the handsome Wilkingsburg home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Sherrick when their niece Miss Mary Josephine Woods, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Sarver, of East McKeesport, Pa., in the presence of a large circle of relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The large mantel in the drawing room was completely hidden by tall plants, ferns and flowers, with two tall electric torches on each side behind which Bishop Mann, of Trinity Episcopal Church, Sixth Ave., stood as the officiating clergyman.

Exactly at three o'clock, to the beautiful strains of Richard Wagner's wedding march from Lohengrin, played on the piano by Dr. Russell Engelka, a cousin of the bride, there descended down the broad stairway six pretty little girl cousins of the bride, bearing white flowered chiffon streamers, which formed a lane through which the bridal party passed from the stairway to the floral altar. Then came the bridegroom with his best man, Mr. Topley, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Emma Mogart, who was becomingly attired in a blue crepe gown with a broad-brimmed tan hat, trimmed in blue. She carried a large arm bouquet of white roses tied with chiffon. Next descended the flower girl, little Miss Lida Engelka, dressed prettily in pink silk with a bonnet to match. She carried a hanging basket, filled with pink roses. Last, but not the least, came the tall and stately blushing bride, leaning on the arm of her guardian and uncle, Mr. Edwin L. Sherrick, who gave her away. She looked stunning in her gown of white crepe with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, tied with long and knotted ribbon bands.

The beautiful ring ceremony of the episcopal church was used in tying the nuptial knot by Bishop Mann, after which felicitations were exchanged and an informal reception held. Caterer Jordan and his aids, of East Liberty, served an elaborate buffet lunch, which consisted of quicken salad, stuffed olives and sweet pickles, toasted sandwiches, assorted nuts, demi-tasse and heart shaped ice cream. The table in the dining room was beautifully and artistically laid out in an all lace table-cloth with a huge bowl of spring flowers for the centerpiece.

Candelabra, with tall sticks, adorned the four corners of the table. On the center of the buffet was an immense heart-shaped wedding cake with tall candles on each side. The bride cut the cake and it was later made up into small wrapped pieces, which were distributed to the guests as souvenirs.

The bride is the only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wood, formerly of Philadelphia, and is a graduate of the Mt. Airy School there, while the groom is a product of the Edgewood School of this city. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

After a honeymoon trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Syracuse, New York, the happy bridal couple will be at home to their friends in a completely furnished house on the Lincoln Highway at Broadway, East McKeesport, Pennsylvania.

Among those present at the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Sherrick, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sherrick, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Enos, Miss Lida H. Sherrick, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Sherrick, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sherrick, Mrs. Barner, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Engelka, Miss Lola M. Sherrick, Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Topley, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. W. J. Hayes, Miss Tenie Kornblum, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. McPorland. WM. I. HAYES

MEMORIAL DAY

NEXT Monday is the day set apart for the nation to do homage to its dead, those brave men whose blood was shed for the benefit of posterity.

When we think of the Great World War, and of the brave men who marched so proudly before the multitude of applauding onlookers, many of them never to return, there is a feeling of sadness for their fate intermingled with pride for their imperishable glory.

Americans, born in the land of liberty, take that liberty as a matter of course. It is their birthright. They do not realize at what a high price it was purchased—at what great sacrifices it has been upheld.

On Memorial Day, above all other days, the children should be educated concerning its true significance.

Many years ago, in the days of good old Doctor Isaac Lewis Peet, the children of Fanwood were assembled in the chapel. On the platform was a little mound of leaves and ferns, to typify the last resting place of man. A selected number filed past and one after another laid a flower upon it. Afterwards the teachers made addresses in the sign-language, and a bevy of the older girls signed in chorus a hymn or song pertinent to the day.

The exercises and addresses made an indelible impression on the minds of the pupils. They recognized the great debt they owed to the soldier dead and understood the true significance of Memorial Day. After chapel all were given a half-day holiday.

Lincoln's address at the dedication of the cemetery at the battlefield of Gettysburg, has several times been printed in these columns, and we reprint it. Every one should read it—every boy and girl should be familiar with its beautiful sentiments so wonderfully and briefly expressed.

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

"Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or de-

CHICAGO.

For years we garnered money for the heathen deaf Chinese; Sent it with love and tenderness, across the sounding sea! No more we send our money there; no more by rote and rule—For the Chinese chefooed Chefoo and they seized our little school!

The first school for the deaf established in China seems to have been abandoned!

The blood-thirsty heathens now driving out the whites, have taken possession of the Chefoo quarters first established by Mrs. Anita Mills, of Rochester, about 1895. In fact Mrs. Mills had to escape without even her coat or hat—hot-footing for the wharf and jumping across a foot of open water to clutch the side of the last boat pulling out from the doomed city.

Such was the information brought to Chicago by Miss Carter—one of Mrs. Mills teachers—and delivered before a good crowd at the M. E. "citadel" on the 7th. Miss Carter's address was punctuated with anecdote and interest. She related how she taught her little charges to make hair-nets, which brought a little profit and enabled the school to add a few additional grains of rice to the daily ration. "And then, all of a sudden, the bottom dropped out of the market. Our stock of patiently woven hair-nets was not worth a Continental. 'Cause why? 'Cause as soon as the Chinese men cut off their queues and wore short hair like white men, the white women of America did likewise. Yes, 'the white devil women in America, also cut off their queues; so there was no further market for hair-nets.' At the close of the address the audience was invited to ask her questions. Asked if the deaf Chinks are in danger, Miss Carter said No, as it is only the 'white foreign devils' the Chinese are wroth with.

Other entertainment, in addition to Miss Carter's discourse; Mesdames Young, Hertzberg and Meagher recited their Easter anthem, Waite Vaughan gave his lighting-sketches of Coolidge, Thomson, etc., and Miss Geaves sang a hymn. Nearly all the residents of the Home attended.

Chi-Oral-106 is said to have broken the record for number of tables at All Angels' Parish House, May 14th, with 13 tables of 500 and six of bunco. Frederick Wirt, chairman. Refreshments and everything Charming evening—those orators make it extra nice for us non-orators, so naturally we endeavor to reciprocate. The prizes were spread out for winners to select from, and hereby lies a joke. Harry Leiter and Mrs. Ernest Craig took firsts at 500; Ward Bulford and Miss Tillie Cohen at bunco, and so down the list, until only one prize remained on the table. Frederick Menken picked it up. A small box, which turned out to be a new fangled cigarette case—automatic ejector. Menken looked it over, then—being a connoisseur of jewelry—was suddenly interested. An oratorist walked up and verbally offered Menken $2 for the case. He declined the offer. It had come out that this despised last selection was really the most expensive of them all—the donor, C. Valdo Barden, having spent $5 for it.

That former Chicagoan, young Edwin Hazel, is more and more in the limelight. The May issues of the two leading fraternal magazines of America have nice write-ups of his Parliamentary Pocket Chart. The Fraternal Age has his photo on page 12. The Fraternal Monitor has four paragraphs on page 14. And Cablegram for May—the magazine of the large publishing house that issues The Frat—has something about Hazel on page 10. All this is free advertising, you understand—and if you imagine getting free advertising in any large magazine or newspaper is a simple matter, you're cuckoo.

The great Gibson has given Hazel charge of a monthly column on Parliamentary Law in the Frat, and the past few issues have had Hazel's questions and answers to some of the most important points affecting the forthcoming Denver convention. This youngster is only 32 years of age. When he left Chicago six years ago, Chicago lost a valuable asset—but Chicago is only now beginning to realize the fact. Moral: We never know how much we love a friend until we lose him—or until he becomes rich and famous.

Charlie Kemp is sentenced to be shot at sunrise. He came over for a visit while I was dressing. "Hullo; I see you have on your golf hose," sezze. "Huh; whuzzat?" said I. "Eighteen holes," answered Charlie.

Dorothy Evison, 12, the daughter of deaf parents, won her debate in Oglesby public school recently, upholding the Lincoln side of a Washington-Lincoln debate. Her father is in business for himself, applying Duco to automobiles, and also repairing them. He gets as high as $300 for a single job—this was a Lincoln limousine, and took him two weeks, while working on another car during the time the coats on the Lincoln were drying. Evison is becoming known as a pains-taking workman, and is well patronized, as Chicago garages and automen generally decline to take pains or turn out a thoroughly good job.

Warning to deaf printers: Stay away from Chicago! Fully 1000 Union men are out of work here, and the Union is paying an average of $2000 per week in out-of-work benefits. (No, you can't horn in on that—membership in local No. 16, for at least six months is necessary before you can draw some of the gravy.) Several shops are said to be thinking of following the lead of the White plant (formerly Regan-Peterson) in crawling out of their contracts with the I. T. U. and operating on an "open shop" basis. Past experience teaches us that while the shops may seem glad to get non-union deaf workmen in times of strike, these deaf incompenents are generally let go as soon as things settle down. As they are listed at Union headquarters, they find it difficult to get work in after years—for eventually the Union is bound to come out on top. So stay away from Chicago—for your own individual good as well as for the good name of the deaf as a class.

Chairman Mrs. Anton Tanzar of the "Opposite Sex party," scheduled for the Silent A. C. June 4th, wants a little publicity. "You will do that for your very kind friends, the Minnesota Swedes, yes, please?" she pleads. (The fact that Minnesota or its sweet Swedes were ever "kind" to me is surprising news—you remember what happened in the rump convention in St. Paul, 1923.) As a prompt-pay subscriber I like to read news of my party, dear Mr. Meagher. "Anybody who addresses little me as 'Mr.' has five-feet-two-inches of my entire attention. So I look up my subscription books, and—sure, enough, Mrs. Tanzar has paid her subscription promptly for the past several years. Accordingly, here goes:

Sac; June 4; girls will dress as boys, and boys will dress as girls, and all will mingle and tease in reversed roles. If you are a boy, you gotta doll up in feminine rig; and when a girl dressed as a boy asks you for a kiss, you gotta slap her face and exclaim: "Sir, how dare you; rags are royal raiment when worn for virtue's sake; I am gonna tell ma!" If you are a girl, you gotta don pantaloons and oogle the skinny shanks of the bow-legged lads who are trying to flap like flappers—that's a flop. You gotta congregate in the corners and thrust thumbs in the arm-holes of your vests, and try to tell drummers' yarns. Cash prizes paid for the best costumes and acting. Here's a tip: Wear modern garb. At the Chi-Oral-106 "Op-Sex party," it was noticed those dressed as Colonial dames, and in other passe characters, failed to land in the money awards.

Marcel Warnier, who came from Belgium after the war, and for the past four years has been sticking type at Kable Bros., Mount Morris, Illinois—the firm that publishes The Frat—has gone to the Union Printers' Home in Colorado Springs. He has tuberculosis. His young wife has returned to her folks in Toronto, Canada.

Claude Russell, born under the constellation Hoodooius, with a copyright on all forms of bad luck, was taken to the isolation ward, May 15th. Trouble—erysipelas, it is said. The Russells lost everything in that fire last winter, and he has been out of work, and—well, if there is any form of hard luck, Russell has not been introduced to, it is because that form of bad luck has not been invented yet.

Nine tables at the Pas-a-Pas club's monthly card party on the 14th. A large framed picture of the late Chester C. Codman now decorates the walls of the clubroom—he was one of the founders of the club. The Pas-a-Pas plans an outing to Starved Rock Park, near LaSalle, some Sunday this summer, to which non-members are cordially invited. Twenty years ago these outings were the bright spot of the entire summer, but with the coming of the auto they gradually fell into disuse. The success of the venture will be watched with interest.

Mrs. Ben Ursin has gone to spend a couple of months with her mother in Northfield, Minn.; following which she will sojourn a few weeks in her former home-town of Duluth.

Mrs. J. A. Anderson's mother died at her home in North Dakota. The J. C. Howard Co. of Duluth had no exhibit at this year's Outdoor Life Exposition in the Coliseum—leastwise I was unable to find a Howard booth.

Dates ahead: May 28th—Sac bunco and 500. 30th—"It" lecture by Dick Long. 30th—???? June 4th—Opposite Sex Party, Sac. 11th—Pas bunco and 500. 18th—Pas Strawberry festival.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Ralph H. Atwood, for many years a teacher at the Ohio School passed away May 11th. Being in his 90th year, he had been feeble in mind and body for several months and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Atwood was graduate of the Hartford School and was probably the last one among the deaf who had come in personal contact with Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet. In 1920, Mr. Atwood retired on a pension. His only surviving relative is his widow, Tacy Hall Atwood. The funeral services were conducted at the home on Ohio Avenue, by Rev. Lichlita of the First Congregational Church, of which Mr. Atwood had been a member. Mrs. Robert Thomas interpreted for the deaf. Interment was made in beautiful Greenlawn cemetery beside his first wife, who died many years ago. Among the flowers sent was a basket of roses from old neighbors on Oak Street, where Mr. Atwood had lived for forty years. The pallbearers were Messrs. Join Showalter, Elsey, Grigsby, Murphy and Fryfogle. Watching Mrs. Thomas' impressive signs we wondered how any one could refuse to see the beauty of the sign language—how any person professing to have the welfare of the deaf at heart could wish to have them deprived of their beautiful signs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ross, of Cleveland, observed their fifth wedding anniversary April 23d. Many friends spent the evening with them and showered them with useful presents. A fine Dutch buffet supper was served. Mr. Joseph Dobe, Cleveland, is able to be at his duties again, after a prolonged illness from blood poisoning, due to an infection on his left foot. Mrs. Joseph Dobe's mother died April 16th, after a long illness.

Rev. Collins Sawhill conducted funeral services for Mrs. Effie Johnson, Cleveland. Mrs. Johnson was educated at the Illinois school and lived in Oklahoma for several years, before coming Cleveland her home.

Mr. Floyd Forvalder, Bellevue, a young deaf man, met with a serious accident, May 5th, while at his work in a factory there. In some way his left hand was caught in the machinery and so badly crushed that two fingers and part of the hand had to be amputated. The company is looking after him and he is under the State compensation law.

Mr. George Kinkel, who underwent an operation at Grant Hospital, Columbus, has sufficiently recovered to be removed to the Ohio Home, where he is a resident. The Home has had two iron lawn seats and a large iron trellis donated to it by Supt. Chapman's cousin, Mr. J. T. Shee, of Sheer Bros. Iron Works, Cleveland. Just now the helpers at the Home are busy storing the coal for next winter's use. Forty-six tons were delivered last week and another car load is yet to come.

Rev. Collins Sawhill recently received from the Carnegie Steel Company, of Pittsburgh, a service medal awarded for loyal and faithful services to the company for more than twenty-five years. Several years ago, Mr. Sawhill was retired on a pension, after serving his company well for thirty-seven years.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ohlemacher were given a surprise on May 15th, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Some twenty friends met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clum, and then went in a body to the Ohlemacher's home nearby, where they found Mr. Ohlemacher enjoying a nap. They were presented with a lovely silver bread plate. Before the presentation, Miss Cloa Lamson recited the following poem which was composed for the occasion by Mrs. Joseph Neutzling: To The Ohlemachers on their Silver Anniversary:

Long years ago, two hearts of youth
With love and trust entwined,
Agreed to journey through life's ways—
No matter where roads wind.

Five dear ones came to bless their life—
But one was called above—
It drew them ever closer still,
O wondrous power of love!

The time has passed in ceaseless round,
Their ways together go,
Through joy and health and sorrow's tears,
Through happiness and woe.

Today you see us gathered here,
Our respects for to pay—
And may this gift remind thee of Thy Silver Wedding Day.

Mrs. Neutzling also prepared a small book, the cover of which was beautifully painted, and the poem was written in the book. All present signed their name in it, thus making a keepsake for the family.

Mr. Carl Ohlemacher presented his parents with twenty-five bright silver dollars arranged in a box. The afternoon was spent in conversation and later a delicious lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Ohlemacher have a lovely home in Oakland Park Avenue. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Elsey, H. Cook, B. Cook, Geo. Clum, Wm. Zorn, J. Neutzling, W. Wark, R. Thomas. Mesdames Charles,

Neuner, Zell, Leib, Misses Biggam, Mac Gregor, Zell, Toskey, Edgar and Messrs. Greener, Zell and Showalter. All of the Ohlemacher children were present as they had a hand in preparing the surprise.

The Columbus Stitch and Chatter Club met last Wednesday with Mrs. George Clum. While refreshments were being served a huge birthday cake was brought in and Mrs. Robert Thomas (May Greener) was then told it was in honor of her birthday. The cake proved to be ice cream all decorated with roses made of the cream too. Then Mrs. Thomas had another surprise sprung on her when the club presented her with a lovely sewing cabinet. We suspect she is to take it to each club meeting to show that she really uses it.

That the Ohio Legislature passed the Gillen bill over the governor's veto was a big surprise to most folk connected with the two schools and yet there were others who were hoping that such a thing would be done. All the deaf of Ohio sincerely thank Editor Hodgson for his fine editorial about the matter and we wish that Gov. Vic Donahey could have read the editorial and learned something.

Ohio weather has been anything but May-like this last week, and folks have been forced to rekindle their furnace fires and get out their winter wraps again.

The good old summer time—not yet, but soon. E.

DETROIT.

The Detroit papers recently gave an account of the good work of Mrs. Grace Davis, also showing her likeness. She is librarian for the blind in Detroit and Michigan. She is a daughter of the former Superintendent of the Colorado School for the Blind and Deaf, and a great helper to the Detroit deaf. Perhaps the JOURNAL readers who knew Mrs. Davis and her deceased father would like to read about her, so I will reprint same. Mrs. Percival Hall, wife of Dr. Hall of the Gallaudet College, was one of her playmates at the Colorado School.

"Some years ago, the superintendent of the State school for the blind and deaf in Colorado, looked up from his books to give started attention to his baby daughter.

"The infant, a glorious little girl of eight months, was trying to attract the attention of her deaf nurse by means of the sign language.

He watched, fascinated.
Her baby fingers spelled out the word 'milk'.

"That Grace Davis, who as a child, could speak the language of the afflicted before she could speak her own, should, as a woman, devote much of her time to aiding the deaf and blind seems natural.

Today, she holds titles that sound paradoxical. She is reader to the deaf, and only librarian for the blind in the State of Michigan.

Her service to the deaf is purely voluntary. It takes her into the largest churches in the city, where she sits at the altar and translates the sermons into sign language as rapidly as the words fall from the lips of the speaker. It brings her into courts, where she acts as an official interpreter.

But it is as librarian for the blind that Mrs. Davis does still more unusual work.

At her suggestion, two years ago, a room was added to the Lathrop branch library, then in construction, for Braille books.

The problem of securing library space for books for the blind was solved, but another problem arose as much more formidable as a final examination question after that of a weekly test.

Obviously, applicants for Braille books could not cross automobile streets. Some methods of distribution other than the call and carry system of regular libraries had to be found.

The answer came voluntarily from an unconsidered source—the head of the postoffice department of Detroit.

The Braille room of the library forthwith became a branch postoffice, where books were taken directly to and from homes by mail.

Detroit is the only city in the United States to enjoy such a service.

"Detroit is not a blind people city," declares Mrs. Davis. "It has a lower rate than any other city its size in the country. One reason is because it is essentially a young people's town—another—it has slight preservation classes in the public schools.

"We use no cards, and we have no time limit in books," she continues, "and yet we never have trouble over delayed return the way most libraries do."

Under her leadership, dancing classes, dramatic classes, and even a league for the blind have been formed, and speakers from all over the state invited to address the meetings.

Mrs. Davis has also recently been appointed chairman of the National Library Association for the blind.

The Second Sunday of each month Rev. Franklin C. Smielau or some assistant will have service at St. John's.

We do get discouraged trying to get news and feel like throwing up the job, then an occasional card pops up, saying: "We do enjoy Detroit column." Then our courage is renewed and we try again.

Our latest encouragement comes from San Martin, California. Thanks.

Mrs. M. Wins, of Flint, has been a recent guest of Mrs. Cloy Stegner.

Mrs. W. Howe Phelps, of Los Angeles, is in Royal Oak caring for her sick mother.

As the weatherman was on a bad behavior only a small crowd turned out to the N. F. S. D. social. Perer Hellers won first prize and Lucy Buchan, second in the "Ask me another" Contest. Several other good things came with it those who did go were well repaid for their trouble.

Domice DeFazio and his brother are ready to leave on June 11th, for Italy to visit their father's home land. They will stay two months. We wish them Bon Voyage.

Ralph Breece is back from Florida and all smiles again at the D. A. D. A Fishing Pond was the main attraction at the D. A. D., Saturday night. D. DeFazio had charge of the affair.

Little Robert Vernier contracted a severe cold some way while visiting in Detroit. He was quite ill for some time. His mother, Mrs. Philip Vernier came from Washington, D. C., and took him home. We were all sorry to see him go back so soon.

Rev. F. Smielau was unable to make his circuit on the 7, 8, 9. He secured Mr. Sawhill, of Cleveland, to take his place on the 8th, in the P.M., he gave a fine sermon appropriate to Mother's Day, while Mrs. Colby rendered the beautiful hymn "Mother" to a large audience, at St. John's Chapel, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kresin were among the out-of-town visitors present.

Ivan Heymanson, President of the N. A. D. Thomas Kenney, and Robert V. Jones, with S. Goth as chauffeur, motored over to Flint to see President Stevens on M. A. D. business the fifteenth.

The Detroit Association of the Deaf will have a smoker on May 27th. Open House will take form of a May Festival, 28 to 30th, misses a good time at all.

The thirty-two Detroiters, who went to Toledo were all members of the Detroit Association of the Deaf.

REMINISCENCES

Anthony Capelle, in a reminiscent mood, tells the following:

One of our old deaf friends not long ago told one on himself. With several of his intimate friends he journeyed over to the Bronx to pay a visit to the Deegans. In his hurry, he forgot his "store teeth," hence, when the hostess set before her guests a bountiful repast, our friend was unable to partake any of the dainty things, except to "smile" with the rest of the company, which was made possible by Mr. Deegan's original way, which many know so well.

Here's another one. One day, not so long ago, a deaf-mute felt tired and got in the "hay," forgetting to take off his spectacles. On awakening in the morning was asked where they were. On the dresser, of course, was the answer, but on investigation they were not found there. After a long search, which proved of no avail, the worried person found out that they were just where they were needed.

This also reminds the writer of an incident many years ago at the Fanwood School. Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet, always a busy man about the school and in his office, was the owner of a couple of "specs." His vision was pretty good, but had to use glasses with which to read, and when not occupied in reading, would take them off or shove them to his head.

It happened one day that he had shoved more than one pair that way, and when he came to an important paper, and needed his "specs," he hunted all over the office for them. He had a couple of students help him in his search. It happened that one of the professors came in at the time to consult him about something, and seeing the excitement of the doctor and the boys searching about, he naturally asked what was wrong.

"My specs," said the doctor.

The professor looked at the doctor, and seeing a couple of specs on the doctor's head, inquired how many kinds he used, and if the couple now on his head were any of these that were missing. The doctor took them off, and said why, of course, they are the right ones, and exclaimed, I have never thought of looking for them there.

Gallaudet College

The arrogance circulating in the halls of the three upper classes was somewhat quenched when their bellicose nine met with ignominious defeat at the hands of the blycoddles of the Freshman and preparatory classes. The errors are too numerous to be definitely stated, but, nevertheless, the score known to be 10 to 6.

It is said that the very worst of the players participating in that game will comprise the nine that will play the Faculty men, plus Mr. Craig, the Principal of the Kendall School, Monday, May 23d, weather permitting. Professor Masfeld, the psychologist, is expected to palm off some of his little science, upon the uncouth specimens playing against his team, while President Hall and his wagon-bugle of a bat is certain to be the signal for the outfielders to trot their out. Professor Hughes, the baseball coach this season, will undoubtedly dig his spikes deep into the three sacks, being a firm advocate of Cobb's sliding tactics. In short, an exciting game all around.

Looked forward to with tense expectancy on the part of the faculty and the students.

Professor H. D. Drake has been having considerable trouble with his left eye, wherein an ulcer is suspected of having made itself at home. He is undergoing treatment at the hands of a skilled eye-specialist and, it is hoped, his yellow eye-glasses will soon be discarded. It is feared that, having become accustomed to see him adorned with his jaundice-colored spectacles, we will experience some difficulty in recognizing him minus his optical ornaments.

Saturday morning, May 21st, a small gallery watched the most exciting tennis match played on Kendall Green this year. Delmar Costrove, P. C. and Richard Schlosser, P. C., were in the finals of an elimination tournament and accordingly proved themselves fully deserving of reaching that stage. After an hour or so of brilliant tennis, Costrove took three straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, thus entitling himself to the championship of Kendall Green. The score, although appearing as otherwise, does not indicate that the champion walked off with the match. "Dick" Schlosser put up a brilliant fight, losing because of lack of control, especially in lobbing, or hitting the ball over the opposing player when he "rushes" the net. The winner of the annual tennis tournament is entitled to have his name engraved on a silver trophy presented by the class of 1926.

In St. Louis bottles popped in profusion, while New York put aside all cosmopolitan superiority and went wild and the staid Quakers in Philadelphia slapped each other on the back—all because of the Flying Fool's super-sensational feat. "Lucky" Lindbergh was far from being neglected on Kendall Green. Students coming back to the Green with newspapers, under their arms were straight-away mobbed by others starving for latest news of "Lucky." The dining room resounded (silently) to the of Captain Charles Lindbergh. Even the latest scandal dwindled into microscopic insignificance in the face of the Lindbergh tidal wave. While some bet on him, others prayed for him. A great relief surged over all when decisive news arrived of his safe arrival. All afternoon Saturday, Dr. Chas. Ely sat with his radio, as if it were a pillory and he the culprit. At about four-thirty, he leaped into his car and drove around to College Hall and set a score or so of hearts beating happily with the information that Capt. "Lucky" Lindbergh had landed safely in Paris. Then Dr. Ely went around to Fowler Hall to loose a flood of happy feminine exclamations. In all, the Kendall Greeners worked, thought, played, and prayed with the Flying Fool.

Sunday morning, May 22, the 1927 Year Book of the Kappa Gamma Fraternity was distributed among the students and the Faculty, after having been in the printing shop for considerable time. As was announced in the foreword of the Year Book, copies of the Year Book will be sent to alumni brethren whose correct addresses are known. Those whose exact whereabouts are not known, may easily secure copies upon writing to the Fraternity. From all appearances, the Year Book being of a much better quality than last year's, has created a gratifying impression upon the students.

Professor H. D. Drake, delivered an excellent sermon in Chapel Hall Sunday afternoon, May 15, of which the subject was "Watchman, what about the night."

The happy anticipation of the vacation that is due here in a few weeks is more or less marred by the fact that the examinations precede the halycon days of summer. Oh, well, the tooth has to be pulled out. Why not go straight to the dentist's chair and have it over with?

Gallaudet entered into a quadrangular meet with Johns Hopkins University, Catholic University, and George Washington, and won only 2 points. Johns Hopkins was far too classy for all the three other universities, winning 66 points to George Washington's 37 to make a poor second.

While we are undoubtedly making an excellent record in purely an academic way, our athletics seems to be suffering greatly—so the complaining alumni say. It must be remembered by all that in the days of yesteryear our contemporary colleges and universities were of the same age and ranking as Gallaudet College. While we are by federal statute restricted to 125 scholarships or so, they have been constantly growing and consequently have by far more athletes from which to form their teams. Far be it from our purpose to present an alibi, but that is the truth, unavoidable fact. Either by having unusually fine athletes in our midst or by enlarging can we attain once more the high excellence of athletics that has more than once put Gallaudet upon Grantland Rice's map.

Reading, Pa.

Reading Division No. 54, held its initial memorial service for its departed members Sunday, May 15th, at the Y. M. C. A. Rev. J. H. Pulver, newly appointed missionary to Rev. Smielau's field of Penna. had charge of the services. He stressed the utmost importance on the fact that the services were not only to remember the dead, but also to assure those living that when they passed on to the great beyond, they would not be forgotten. The sermon was one of the most beautiful ever delivered in Reading and attracted fifty-five deaf persons.

Visitors from other points were: Miss Theresa Schoenberger, Ashland; Mrs. Faust, Girardville; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stites, Millersburg; Messrs. J. A. Roach and J. V. Donahue, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. H. Ray Snyder, Frederick Wolfe, Louis Kleibschel, Harrison Litzberger, Alton; Lawrence Kern, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Caley, Columbia; Miss Sarah Livingstone and Mrs. Blair, Harrisburg.

Saturday evening, after the Division meeting a social was held at which were found sixty-six persons. The night was stormy, it rained, poured and rained some more, yet it seemed nothing could keep a person away from an enjoyable night with Reading Division No. 54.

Mr. Eli Shirk recently purchased an Essex coach. John M. Kershner, Bernville, purchased a Chevrolet touring car. Several others are contemplating purchase of cars and the writer believes that in a few years more than half the deaf will have their own cars.

A birthday party was given to Raymond Fritz, popular president of Berks County Local Branch, P. S. A. D., by a few of his intimate friends. He was taken by surprise and received a "Smokador," to be kicked around the room without spilling ashes and matches all over the rugs. Congratulations on his 39th.

W. A. H. Reider, a Booster Club member, of Reading, has thrown his hat in the ring and is running for City Treasurer on the Republican ticket. It is hoped that since he first took an interest in our welfare, the deaf of Reading come to the polls and take an interest in his welfare.

The deaf as drivers: Mr. David Tobias for over twenty years has driven a coal delivery wagon without mishap. He knows his horses and his horses know him.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie T. Irwin are now comfortably domiciled in a new apartment at 699 E. Exchange Street.

Mrs. Nash Murdock and little daughter, Rose Jones, left Thursday for Atlanta, Ga., where they will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Campbell, for about three months.

Samuel Bentley, who is employed by the printing shop of the Firestone, attended an egg social, given by the Pittsburgh division, N. F. S. D., at Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed and Mrs. Samuel Nicholas, of Pittsburgh, were recent excursionists here, visiting Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Major.

Louis Seinschorn recently purchased a new Essex sedan.

The mission for the Catholic deaf commenced Thursday evening, in the Church of the Annunciation. The Missionary was Rev. D. D. Higgins, C. SS. R., of New Orleans, La., who preached a sermon in signs. The Mission continued Friday and Saturday evenings. Holy Communion in a body, Sunday morning. Father Higgins was pleased with the good attendance. He recently conducted missions in Cleveland and Youngstown.

Irving Mordine, of Los Angeles, Cal., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson and C. Dutton, the past week. The boys were once pupils at the California School for the deaf at Berkeley.

Friends of Mrs. Harry S. Dobson will regret to learn that she continues ill at her home on Hampton road.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ornberg, left Sunday for the Pacific Coast, to enjoy the mild climate for the benefit of Mrs. Ornberg's health.

Mrs. Emil V. Hladik was given a surprise "farewell" party by her former club friends, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Hladik received a beautiful gift. A dainty luncheon was served after playing "500." Five tables were in play. Mr. and Mrs. Hladik motored to Omaha, Neb., Sunday, where they will make their future home.

Silent Sunday School recently donated $25 to the Mississippi flood sufferers and this fund turned over to the local Red Cross society.

A picnic which was to be held at Geauga Lake, some time in July, under the auspices of the Akron Advance Society has been called off.

FANWOOD.

At the ceremonies on Members' Day, it was noticed that the Band had shining new instruments and the rendition of the music seemed to be better. Upon inquiry it was learned that through the generosity of a benevolent director, not only had the Band been entirely equipped with silver-plated Martin hand-made instruments, but that the Field Music was also fitted out with new drums and bugles. Even the drum major had a new baton. Band Leader and Instructor Lieutenant Edwards has been lately going around with a peculiarly pleased smile, the reason for which no one could discern until the Band and Field Music appeared spic and span with their new outfit.

Cadet Ernest Marshall, a resident of Port Chester, N. Y., rode on his bicycle all the way from 25th Street to Bridgeport, Ct., about fifty miles, last Saturday. He practices every Saturday and Sunday, in order to compete with the great contestants in the Amateur Bicycle League of America on June 5th.

Mr. Billy Williamson, a pupil of Frederick School for the Deaf in Maryland, took delight in visiting his playmates here last Wednesday. He was formerly a pupil of Fanwood.

A swell party was held at the girls' study hall last Friday in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the Barrager Athletic Association. Principal Gardner gave them an interesting speech in comparing the present with the old times of past years. There were a few speeches. Miss Lucille Tichenor, the president of B. A. A., and Mrs. Voorhees, girls' physical director, were among the speakers. Prizes were awarded to the girls who won the events at the track meeting a couple of weeks ago. Miss Craig was there, but Dr. Fox and Miss Barrager were not present.

With their improved hitting, the players of Fanwood team beat the Trinity team by the score of 11-4. Mr. Kerr, a tutor of this institution, who was given a chance to play on our team, hit a home run, as also did Otto Johnson. The summaries were:

May 30th, afternoon, the field day is to be held. The runners of the Fanwood team and other outside runners will compete. There will also be a miniature circus before the track meet. Tickets are being sold by the members of Fanwood Athletic Association, and the admission to this grounds is only 25 cents.

On Saturday afternoon, May 21st, there was an exciting baseball game on our grounds, between the strong Chapel team and our Fanwood team. Our team won by the score of 11 to 7. Cadet Band Leader and Sergeant Leo Port pitched our team to victory, and Cadet Drum Major Frank Heintz, veteran pitcher, played shortstop. He intended to pitch for Fanwood, if Port weakened, but Port was still going strong to the 9th inning.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. George Ryan, a blind graduate of this school, made us a visit, and the pupils were very glad to see him. He has been sick, but is better now.

The Capital City.

Mr. Luverne Byrne has harkened to the call of progress. Recently he turned in his old car, a chevrolet, and got for himself a new Nash five passenger sedan. He is so proud of it that hardly a day passes that he is not out riding in his new "transport."

At the Fashion Revue held at Gallaudet College, Friday afternoon, May 6th, were many of the alumni members residing in Washington. Each and every one voiced the highest praise of the work done by the fair co-eds of the college and their hearts thrilled to know that their old Alma Mater is progressing instead of standing still. Those responsible for the success of this show deserve all the praise that can be given.

Mr. Roy Carpenter dropped in Washington, for a week's visit, he coming from New York. He took in the Fashion Revue at College, and was seen about town visiting his old friends and acquaintances and also making new ones. He has left Washington for his home in Indiana, to look after his brother, who is not in the best of health.

In the last issue of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, in this column was an article about an unlucky silent, James Davidson. Reason for his being unlucky was because he had his car stolen. Now by a queer trick of fate he might be termed the luckiest in Washington. Just one week after the loss of his car, the police found it about eight blocks from scene of disappearance. There was not one thing absent from the car except that the gas tank was as dry as a bone. An umbrella, which was in the car, when stolen, was still there when police recovered the car. Seems like an honest thief (if there's such a thing) stole the car and was so broke that he didn't have the cash to buy more gasoline, so as to get himself further away than eight blocks.

Mrs. Bryant has been on the sick list, even more sick than was thought. Just at present she is up and about her home.

For his Mothers' Day Sermon, Rev. A. D. Bryant chose "Thy Name Art Woman." He related the story of Ruth and her mother-in-law, Naomi. His sermon proved that human nature remains the same, although centuries may pass between different races of people.

The St. Barnabas Mission held a social at 3d and A Streets, S. E., Wednesday evening, May 11th. There were several games played. One of them was a guessing game. The question was "How many stamps make one pound?" Value not considered—whether one center, two center or ten center—they all are about the same size and weight. The answer was 6500. The nearest number was written by Miss Jennie Jones. Mrs. Ellen P. Stewart won the second prize. The other game was a "Spelling Bee," from which a great deal of fun was derived by both the participants and the on-lookers. Two prizes were offered, one for a lady and the other for a gentleman. When time was called, it was found that Mr. Schulte was the gentleman's prize winner but the lady's prize had to be settled between Miss Jennie Jones and Mrs. Ellen Stewart. A coin was tossed and the "God of Chance" smiled upon Mrs. Stewart.

The Parkers and Edingtons were in for a lot of worry, Wednesday, May 11th. Mrs. Parker took her two children to a shoemaker's that afternoon. While making change, the youngest child, a girl, disappeared. No one had noticed it move about and a search of the shop around the block failed to show up the child. A telephone call was sent to the police station in that precinct at 4 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the police returned the missing child, it having wandered almost a mile away—probably making for Grand-ma Edingtons, where it frequently is taken.

The only social scheduled for the remainder of this month is to be held at Calvary Baptist Church, Tuesday, May 24th. This social is not exactly settled, because the committee wishes to have a strawberry festival either this month or next, out-doors, and if plans carry, this social scheduled for the 24th may be cancelled in favor of an out-door social. Watch for further particulars.

JEN AND BOB.

A. L. Sherman, who has four deaf-mute brothers and a deaf-mute aunt, has been trying to help the deaf in the vicinity of Fresno and Visalia in a spiritual way. He interprets for them in the Baptist Church at Belmont and Fresno, and once every month in the Baptist Church at Visalia. He conducts classes every Friday night in the Baptist Church at Fresno, when he instructs them in all matters. Visiting deaf-mutes should make it a point to attend these services.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

GREATER NEW YORK BRANCH, N. A. D.

The Greater New York Branch, N. A. D., held a regular meeting at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, on Wednesday evening, May 18th.

Mr. John N. Funk presided and Miss Eleanor E. Sherman recorded.

The attendance was small, some attributed this to the short notice sent out and others to the chilly and unfavorable weather.

The association has on its roll over one hundred and fifty members of both sexes, yet only about thirty-five turned up at the meeting.

One new member was admitted at the meeting—Leo Berzon.

Among other business it was decided to do away with the annual banquet on December 10th, 1927, and instead to hold a Ball, and part of the net proceeds to go over to swell the De l'Epee Memorial Fund.

The Secretary was instructed to obtain by a mail vote the opinion of all the Deaf-Mute Societies in the Metropolitan District as well as all the members of the association to bid for the next National Convention of the N. A. D. for New York City in 1929.

The election of new officers which followed the business meeting, resulted as follows:

President (re-elected), John N. Funk; Vice-President, Emanuel Souweine; Secretary (hold-over), Miss Eleanor E. Sherman; Treasurer (re-elected), Samuel Frankenheim; Board of Directors, Marcus L. Kenner, Mrs. Henry Plapinger and Miss Margaret H. Jones.

In the flood of items concerning New York's social activities among the deaf, the news gatherer seems to have overlooked affairs in the transpentine borough, where St. Mark's Society of the Deaf carried to a successful conclusion its first annual bazaar on April 21st, 22d and 23d. Over four hundred dollars was realized from the sale of articles donated by various firms, but most were made by the members of the society. Mrs. Schnakenberg was chairman and worked assiduously to make the bazaar a success. She was ably assisted by the following: Bakery Booth, Miss Gantz and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Lemonade Well, Miss Gladys Williams and Mrs. Henry Beyer. Candy Cone, Mrs. George Abrams and Mrs. John Larsen. Bower of Beauty, Miss Marion and Mr. Olsen. Utility Booth, Mrs. Holt, Miss Hicks and Mrs. Liebsohn. Fancy Table, Miss Anderson and Mrs. Dyer. Grocery Store, Mr. MacLaren and Mr. Lange. Mrs. Toohey, Mr. Poorman and Mr. Hitchcock had charge of the supper arrangements, while Messrs. Abrams, Meyer and Kerstetter made themselves useful taking up tickets and seeing to the comfort of the patrons. The weather throughout the three days of the bazaar was simply atrocious and kept down attendance somewhat, but those who did attend had a most enjoyable time. Saturday evening, the last day of the bazaar, most of the remaining articles were auctioned off by Mrs. Schnakenberg, and a good sum was realized from this feature. Then with the table cleared, there was a jubilation held with paper cups in place of confetti and streamers and the fun waxed fast and furious till closing time. This is the last gathering at St. Mark's. From now on the deaf meet at the Church of the Messiah, corner Greene and Clermont Avenues, where the Rector, the Rev. Dr. St. Clair Hester is doing all he can to make the deaf happy and comfortable. The next social event is the observance of the birthday of Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, Sunday evening, June 4th. Strawberries and ice-cream will be the bait and a good time is assured.

On Tuesday, May 17th, 1927, the Judge who the case in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Morris Fleischer against her husband granted an interlocutory divorce. They have not lived together for some time. The Judge found that they were not suited to each other. There is no one else on either side, hence the decision of the Judge. Both will be free to marry again in ninety days if they so desire. Mr. Morris Fleischer when seen the next day, showed the scribe a temporary permit as auto driver, and added that his next venture would be as an auto owner, and now that he is free, he expects to devote his leisure time in the pleasure it will afford in automobile trips out in the country. He is a union printer, one of many that are a credit to Fanwood.

Mr. Sylvester J. Fogarty will be among those attending the Denver Frat Convention. He expects to join the delegation that is going there, as he told us there is more pleasure going with a crowd than alone. Nowadays Sylvester never misses a big gathering of the deaf. Distance does not matter to him, as he is a "bach," and is free to go wherever he pleases.

Mr. George Olsen, the rising young, deaf artist, who came to New York a few years ago from Norway has taken unto himself a better half. The news was whispered about a week ago, but it was not confirmed until last Saturday, when he walked in the rooms of Deaf-Mutes' Union League with his bride, and admitted that he had been married for over a month. The young lady is a pretty blonde, hard of hearing, does not know the manual alphabet or the sign language, but is a fine lip reader. George met her of the headquarters of the hard-of-hearing. They live in Flusing, L. I. The reason George has not been seen much lately, he says is not because he is tied down to home-life, but to the fact that he is kept busy at his art work, and is glad when he gets (now his own) home to rest up. He was congratulated by his friends at the club.

Several of the New York dailies last week printed the rise of a deaf-mute ball player named Bradley. Here's how he has been broadcasted:

DEAF BALL STAR

Being deaf and dumb is, apparently, not a handicap to Bradley, a member of the Laurel Club of the Cotton States League, according to a dispatch from the Dixon belt organization.

Bradley joined the club last year as an outfielder. This Spring he was shifted to third base at the start, but shortly after the season opened the catcher was injured and Bradley signalled his willingness to go behind the bat. He caught a double-header to start off with and also got four hits out of four times at the bat in the first and one out of three trips to the plate in the second.

There will be a strawberry festival at St. Ann's Church, on the evening of May 30th, under the auspices of the Guild of Silent Workers. A small admission is charged. As most everyone knows, the Guild is a very worthy institution, which helps those in need of immediate assistance and its chief source of revenue is the annual strawberry festival. Those attending the athletic games at Fanwood in the afternoon will find St. Ann's Church just the place to spend the evening.

Samuel Frankenheim, who will be among those going Denverward, in July. He expects to make an extended tour this time, perhaps for a couple of months. Mr. Frankenheim used to make frequent tours, but for the past several years has been it seems wedded to his home ties, as he has quite a number of customers, which he has been obliged to look after.

On Saturday evening, May 21st, another party came off over in Jersey. Mr. and Mrs. Marx Levy among others entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bachrach, Mr. Frank A. Brown, and John D. Shea.

At the rooms of the Hebrew Association of the Deaf on Saturday evening, May 21st, the Manhattan Division, No. 87, N. F. S. D., held a whist party. About one hundred and twenty-five were present. Cash prizes were awarded the winners. Ice cream, cake and soft drinks were served to all.

Henry C. Kohlman says he is going to attend the Frat Convention at Denver, Col., in July, but as yet has not decided with what party he intends to join.

Mr. Marcus L. Kenner, who is the only elected delegate of the Manhattan Division, No. 87, N. F. S. D. to the Denver Convention, will be accompanied by Mrs. Kenner and after the Convention will visit the Pacific Slope. He may be gone for a month or so.

William Lustgarten has moved to 815 West 181st Street, but he continues to do business on St. Nicholas Avenue, being in partnership with his dad, conducting a large department store.
